TESTIMONIALS

Right from young age, I dreamed of becoming a medical professional. Timely advice from YaduCa experts showed me the path forward. They analysed my educational performance, extracurricular activities and interests. I followed their guidance and got into a Bachelor of Science program at the University of Toronto. Grateful to their timely guidance that now I am on the way to become a doctor.

Akshita, Bachelor of Science (2017),
University of Toronto

I had come to Toronto as a student in 2010. I got into 3D animation program at Humber College. My education consultant Rajiv Sharma and his team helped me throughout the process from Study Permit to Express Entry. They made this a stress free process for me. I am today a permanent resident in Ontario, Canada and am working in a good position. I would highly recommend him for others. Excellent experience! Quick processing! Easily done!

Neha Sandhu, from Delhi

Dr Jagdish P Yadav has been instrumental in my successful transition from a school to a university in Canada. He deftly mixed monitoring of my academic progress and academic guidance with a university, college and career readiness counseling keeping in mind the future job outlook. And this made a difference for me and kept me on course to a successful transition in a program of my choice at the university. Dr Yadav tirelessly encouraged and supported me and helped me draft a compelling expression of interest.

Puru Verma, Environmental Engineering,
University of Ottawa (2019)

I had always wanted to attend a good university for my post secondary education, but in school, I was overwhelmed with multiple options of programs and institutions. Thanks to YaduCa Consultants who not only helped me in narrowing down the choices, but also guided me to select the best program based on profile at one of my most preferred universities.

Siddharth, Bio Medical Science (2019),
University of Waterloo

When I was in Grade 11, I was confused, and fearful, about my after school studies and career. Jagdish Yadav helped me find an academic institution and a program that best suited me. He guided me through the dynamic Canadian post-secondary admission process. Over a couple of counselling sessions, he was able to highlight my strengths to develop a compelling story to get acceptance from the university. Thanks to Jagdish for his timely advice.

Aki V, International Business Development,
University of Carlton, (2019)

SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

PRE-ADMISSION SERVICES

Information sharing and Counselling

This is the initial interaction between the student, parent or other person, and our representative. The key facets of this stage are:

★ Understanding student's personal situation

Student and/or parent provides background information (educational qualifications, marks, subjects, age, extracurricular activities and work experience, specific interests and goals, aspiration, long-term plan, if any). Sharing our information: We explain our vision, customer approach, work style, scope and types of services available, and method of service delivery.

★ Destination information:

The student/parent is provided with high level information on the country, available educational options, work and living opportunities.

★ Assessing student's profile:

Based on student's background information, interests and future goals, an assessment is made about the potential best-fit academic programs and institutions that align closely with client's profile and objectives. Special consideration is given to analyse student's position on completion of his/her study program vis-a-vis the projected labour market situation at that time.

★ Deciding academic program(s) and institution(s):

The student and our representative (counsellor) discuss the assessment report in view of client's personal preferences, pros and cons of different academic options, admission criteria, costs, financial capability and future prospects. The assessment report helps the student/parent to take an informed decision about their program of study.

★ Organizing reconnaissance visits:

We can arrange a tour for you (individual or group) to visit the destination cities, universities and colleges, where you get an opportunity to see the place and its culture. Such visits provide an opportunity to interact with faculty members, current students, community members and business leaders.

ADMISSION SERVICES

Admission support:

Once a student has decided on one or more academic programs to pursue further, we guide and help him/her in securing admission in the selected program and institution. Such guidance and help include:

- Information about admission procedure and requirements
- Prepare application according to institutional instructions
- Preparation of personal statement and references
- Application submission and attending to enquiries
- Interview preparation, if any
- Helping with payment of fees, opening of bank account
- Guiding on finding accommodation

Study Permit/Visa:

Once the student has secured admission in an institution and has received a Letter of Acceptance, we help the student in getting a Study Permit (Study Visa). Our immigration partners will prepare and submit the visa application on your behalf. They handle any questions and requirements from visa office.

Pre-departure readiness:

We coach the student in getting ready to fly off to the study destination. This may include information on important requirements at a new place, travel, timelines, likely situation/questions at the time of landing at airport and process to be followed upon arrival.

POST-ADMISSION /ARRIVAL SERVICES

Arrival logistics and initial settlement:

Adjusting in a new place/country and to a different culture can be challenging. We offer assistance to make your transition to a new place less challenging. We can do that in a number of ways.

- Receive you at the airport and drop off to your destination location, if driving distance is reasonable. For longer distances, you may have to use a bus/train/flight service.
- Give you an orientation of the place you are going to study and live. Generally the orientation covers topics such as living conditions, places of interest (community, cultural, religious, country embassy/consulate), interaction with local people, marketplace, public transit, banks, information on governmental programs and services available to international students and their rights and responsibilities, landlord-tenant regulation, etc.

Specialized Services:

These services are aimed to prepare the student towards achieving his/her long-term goal. They add to students capabilities and help in keeping them focused on the current task and future goal as identified in during pre-admission counselling. We think these services are crucial for the success and should be planned in advance.

Career planning and settlement guidance:

These include employment enhancement strategies, labour market and occupations in demand with industry specific data, job search techniques and assistance with resumes and interviews. We organise regular networking sessions for our students where they can interact and meet other students, industry experts, academic and business leaders. These networking sessions are very useful and help students in making connections and learning from others' experiences. Some of the experts and leaders have undergone a similar path, when they themselves came as international students.

Financial planning:

The students learn about local financial market place – statutory regulatory bodies, financial institutions and instruments, insurance and tax laws and regulations.

Entrepreneurship and business planning:

We help our students and other clients in understanding the local business opportunities and procedures to set a business including business registration, accounts and taxes. o Immigration services: Our immigration partners and experts can help you in understanding the different immigration pathways to come up with a comprehensive personalized plan outlining the best route to get permanent residence and/or citizenship.
